A beauty and talent contest is to be conducted in connection with Greater Lower Bucks County Week, June 7th to 13th. Plans are rapidly maturing and the various committees are meeting frequently to arrange all the details. A mammoth parade is scheduled to climax the week.

The beauty selected will be designated the queen, and will reign over the Greater Lower Bucks County Week, leading the mammoth parade and river regatta as part of the week's program.

It has been decided that the parade will again be held in Bristol on Saturday, June 13th, immediately following the river regatta. John J. Fitzgerald, Yardley, in making the announcements, states that the details were worked out recently at a meeting held in the Bracken Post home, here.

LeRoy Swan, co-chairman of the youth committee of the Jr. Chamber of Commerce, states that the queen of lower Bucks county will be crowned at Pennsbury high school on Thursday, June 11. She will be selected that night from the finalists who are chosen in earlier contests that will be held in each of the principal areas of the lower end of the county. ### FRESH START FOR PEACE

John Foster Dulles, Secretary of State, seems to be skidding a bit on the corners.

That's the way it looks from here. His standing has been on the down grade, and we have a feeling that if the cabinet lined up like pupils in a school room, he would stand near the bottom of the class.

The Secretary has had two or three run-ins with Congress which no one seems to think were really necessary, he has needlessly alarmed a good many of our allies abroad, and as for the recent Russian peace offensive, it is our impression that he didn't in the least expect it to happen, and hasn't had the remotest idea what he ought to do about it now that it has taken place.

Inevitably, gossip has started with reference to Secretary Dulles and his future in the Eisenhower cabinet. Already a good many observers are hinting that he won't be in that cabinet long. He has earned such uncomplimentary references as "like a headache No. 1" and "Biggest disappointment of the new Administration."

A recent visit between President Eisenhower and Governor Dewey renewed what once was quite a "hot" rumor—that the New Yorker and former presidential aspirant may wind up occupying the Secretary of State spot himself.

On the strength of all this, may we once again set forth an opinion which has been expressed in these columns many times before, and which we still believe represents the one and only sound approach to establishing a workable world peace organization during the Eisenhower regime.

Let's put it this way: In ordinary, every-day human affairs, if one person botches a job, you usually call in someone else to try to straighten it out.

The child who broke so many dishes washing them isn't the one you get started putting the rest away in the china-cabinet. For reasons which may or may not be immediately obvious, this principle is immensely more important in politics.

The fact is that in political affairs, everyone who has been

Health Deficiencies Cited by Medical Group

Rapid Population Increase, Smaller Staff of Health Workers Create Problem

The charge that "glaring deficiencies" exist in the present public health service of Bucks county were leveled today by Dr. Richard I. Darnell, Chairman of the Committee for Public Health and Preventive Medicine of the Bucks County Medical Society.

Citing the "tremendous" number of people coming into the area Dr. Darnell declared:

"The same potential exists as has been seen in Army camps in World Wars 1 and 2, namely the rapid spread of contagious diseases in virulent epidemics among people from diverse health backgrounds."

"Very few people with professional training of any extent are active in health work throughout the county."

"While the number of physicians and the quality of their work may be exemplary, they can furnish the 'pound of cure' and the 'ounce of prevention' as long as there is no great out-break of contagious disease."

But, continues Dr. Darnell with the rapid increase in population and the small staff of public health workers, the county might be described as a "keg of dynamite."

"As far as Dr. Teague (Dr. Russell E. Teague, Penna. Secretary of Health,) can tell me we have two sanitarian assistants and three public health nurses working in the county on State salary."

Dr. Darnell explains that only a

Statewide Air Raid Alert To Affect Lower Bucks Next Tuesday

Local Police Raid "Bottle Boys" at Parking Lot

Bristol borough police cracked down yesterday on the "bottle boys" who have been using the borough parking lot as "room and board" and rounded up five men whom they arrested on charges of being drunk and disorderly.

Numerous complaints have been received recently, say police, that the "bottle boys" have been pan-handling shoppers who parked their cars on the parking lot. Mill street business men have complained that the "derelicts" have been sleeping at night, in trucks that are parked in the rear of the Mill street stores.

Two of the men, when picked up, listed their addresses as "Bristol", but police feel that there is reason to believe that they come from other communities.

The men were given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Anthony Niccol, at the Municipal Building, and were ordered committed to the county jail in lieu of payment of their fines.

BLOOD DONORS

Bristol Blood Donors announce the transportation yesterday morning of Mildred Lynn of 450 1/2 Pond street to Nazareth Hospital for treatment.

The State Council of Civil Defense through the Bucks county Civil Defense office, at Doylestown, today announced a statewide air raid alert of utmost importance to be held next Tuesday, April 21 from 8:35 p. m. to 2:45 p. m., E.S.T.

During the period of the alert every Bucks countian, and residents in all other sections of the State will be required to discontinue all non-essential activities and to "take cover."

In addition, county and local civil defense organizations will undertake such simulated emergency activities as may be considered either essential, or desirable, to the furtherance of local defense programs.

Bucks County's director of civil defense, Colonel A. M. Heritage, of Doylestown, said today the alert next Tuesday will be the most important held since the Korean activities got under way. Bucks county's public air raid warning system will be tested and the public will be provided practice in the basic principles of self-protection.

Citizens will also, as a result of the alert, gain the very much needed and necessary experience needed in event of an enemy attack.

"The general aim of the test shall be to bring all non-essential activities to a halt and have the public 'take cover', Col. Heritage said today.

Two types of public alerts will be sounded—red and white. The red and white alerts will not be "fan-out" from keypoint warning centers, although they will be transmitted over that portion of the bell-and lights system now installed and in operation.

Instead of the "fan-out", county and local civil defense officials will be expected to make some particular individual, or individuals, responsible for the sounding of local sirens, horns and whistle alarms in accordance with certain

HAS THREAT CHANGED?

It is instructive to consider the actions and gestures of Moscow and Peiping in the light of the communique that came out of French-American talks at Washington, released a day or two before Peiping—acting for Moscow—started the current "reds aren't unreasonable" crusade.

The document was written after a number of pronouncements and incidents had gone into the record since the death of Stalin, and may have helped to inspire the present Kremlin moves. The second paragraph of the communique said:

"It was agreed, in the absence of any tangible proof to the contrary, that recent developments in the Soviet Union had not changed the basic nature of the threat confronting the free world. The representatives of both countries were in full agreement on the necessity of concerting their efforts so as to defeat Communist aggression in the Far East and to strengthen the defenses of the free countries of the West. They remain convinced that true peace can be achieved and maintained only by constructive efforts of all free nations."

This statement came at a moment when there was some reason to believe that Moscow meant to modify its aggressive policy—and at least as much reason to believe that the Russians merely wanted to reap what propaganda advantage they could get from talking about peace. There certainly is doubt whether moves made by Moscow since this statement was issued can be taken as "tangible proof" that the nature of the red threat has indeed changed.

Certainly there is no intimation anywhere that the course of the free nations designed to defend themselves against the communist menace will be altered.

What Russia's short-term intentions are may soon become clear. It may be that they will result in a cease-fire in Korea. But Washington must examine every move the Kremlin makes against the background of the past in order to avoid foolish mistakes.

The Colorado Sheriff who shot and killed two suspected murderers by whom he had been kidnapped will probably be accused by Washington of violating the civil rights of the playful pair.

The proposal to increase the pay of high officials in Washington should be held in abeyance.

There is much speculation about travel to the moon. It still is admitted, however, that this would be more feasible if there were filling stations along the way.

Maienkov is determined to have peace no matter how many American planes he has to shoot out of the skies to achieve it.

Communists to prove their faith by deeds and not with words that the alternative to "true and total" peace may be atomic war.

The Chief Executive served notice on the Soviet and its satellites that the free nations will remain armed against the threat of aggression so long as there is the slightest risk of war.

But Mr. Eisenhower declared the U. S. would welcome disarmament talks leading toward general reduction of military forces and international control of atomic energy.

The Chief Executive said the Kremlin can give concrete evidence of its concern for peace by these three actions:

1. Using its decisive influence in the Communist world and bring "not merely an expedient truce in Korea but genuine peace in Asia."

2. Showing it is prepared to allow other nations, including its eastern Europe satellites, to choose their own forms of government and associate freely with other countries in a "world-wide community of law."

3. Indicate its readiness to open "serious disarmament proposals to be made firmly effective by stringent United Nations control and inspection."

President Eisenhower proposed that a "substantial percentage" of the savings achieved through general disarmament be placed in a fund for "world aid and reconstruction." Thus, he declared, the monumental sums now spent on arms could provide hospitals, homes, schools and aid for the undeveloped areas of the world.

The President said the new leadership in Russia has, in great part, the power to make its own future and to "help turn the tide of history" at this critical moment.

The President said that the U. S. would gladly enter into the "most solemn agreements" on disarmament, including these five points:

1. The limitation, by absolute numbers or by an agreed international ratio, of the sizes of the military and security forces of all nations.

2. A commitment by all nations to limit the proportion of their strategic materials to be devoted to military purposes.

3. International control of atomic energy "to promote its use for peaceful purposes only and to insure the prohibition of atomic weapons."

4. A limitation or prohibition of other categories of "weapons of great destructiveness."

5. Enforcement of all such agreements by "adequate safeguards including a practical system of inspection under the United Nations."

President Eisenhower made only a passing comment on the need for the European Defense Community—the proposed European Army—to defend western Europe against aggression. He said the free world knows from bitter experience that "vigilance and sacrifice are the price of liberty."

The President also declared the free world knows the admission of western Germany as a free and equal partner in the European community is "the only safe way to full, final unity."

Levitt Offers Headquarters to Civic Association

Levittown—The board of directors of the Levittown Civic Association on Tuesday night will recommend to the general membership that they accept use of a house on Tullytown-Fallsington road as a meeting place for local organizations.

The directors and officers made the decision last night, after visiting the house, located at the rear of the Exhibition Center, and conferring with its present occupant, Fred Watts.

According to Duke Sloan, chairman of the directors, William J. Levitt, president of Levitt & Sons, Inc., offered the building on the condition that the Association provide for heat and light, maintenance and insurance. Sloan said he directed estimated that yearly expenses would be $120 for electricity, $175 for fuel and $25 for insurance, with additional costs for cleaning and repairs.

Levitt is not certain when he will tear down the house to start new construction, but told the officers he may do so in a month, or possibly not for two years, according to Sloan. The builder is offering the house on a month-to-month basis.

Watts plans to move May 1. The house is a yellow frame structure, with some sections 100 years old. It was part of the old Bloomfield Farm. Facilities in the building include two downstairs rooms suitable for simultaneous small meetings, rooms on the second floor available for cloak rooms, or additional meetings, and a basement which might be used for storing Civil Defense equipment.

The Civic Association officers will propose that the Association share the expenses with other organizations using the house. Thirteen made the tour last night.

Time Is Money---

The time you spend on your job is money in your pay envelope. Like time, this money has a way of "flying" fast . . . from one pay day to the next. You can't make time stand still. But you can make some of your money stand still . . . in a savings account in our bank. Not only stand still, but grow steadily via the interest it earns for you. Timely advice: start a savings account at once. Then deposit a definite amount of money every pay day . . . before it gets a chance to fly!

Fresh Start for Peace

involved in a certain record of performance has an overwhelming urge to try to justify it thereafter before the public.

"Running for vindication" is an old political tag-line, and it usually describes a point of view and a course of administrative conduct which are completely dead-end, so far as constructive future results are concerned.

Back in the spring of 1945, when Harry Truman suddenly became President, this column pointed out that the new executive had presented to him the greatest opportunity for statesmanship any human being ever received—he could stop the entire, crazy-house peace maneuvers at that moment heading for final ratification at San Francisco; he could repudiate every blessed one on the secret and discreditable deals made at Teheran and Yalta, and he could call for a review of the entire record, from the beginning, in a face to face conference with Stalin and Churchill.

Instead, hypnotized by the concept of "vindicating" the New Deal record, Mr. Truman ordered the San Francisco conference to go ahead at a moment when (if we are to believe the memoirs of the then Secretary of War Stimson) his ignorance of the facts was so great he didn't even know about the atomic bomb.

The San Francisco conference was thereupon completed by those who had been merely glorified office-boys for the real mastermind, the dead President, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

A great many persons put their official seal of approval on the United Nations organization in its outrageous form as finally completed, and thereby upon all the long and tragic series of deals and betrayals made in its name, the subsequent ones at Potsdam as well as those which preceded it.

Chief of those who remained where they might have rendered profound service to destiny by eliminating the frightful errors in the charter and by repudiating the bloody and fatal betrayals which paved the way to the creation of the United Nations, (after Mr. Truman eliminated himself from that position) was Republican Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, now dead.

Senator Vandenberg some time prior to the San Francisco conference raised his voice loud and eloquently against the charter as drafted, and against various of the deals involved in it. His indictments continue today the most unanswerable criticisms of the organization—for the fact is, of course, that virtually nothing was ever done to eliminate these defects.

Instead, Senator Vandenberg accepted the offer of a post helping represent the New Deal Administration in the U. N.'s General Assembly, forgot all his previous criticisms, helped negotiate the program through Congress, and thereafter up to the time of his death spent his activities trying to "vindicate" the program by means of the mis-named "bi-partisanship."

Thereafter Mr. Dulles, who had been associated with Vandenberg and others in this program, also came to sit in the General Assembly as confidant and adviser to such New Deal figures as Truman, Marshall, Acheson, etc., etc.

Now, while we are entirely willing to grant that President Eisenhower has the right to make whatever choice he decides upon as his representative in the General Assembly or as his Secretary of State, we nevertheless feel that it is a tragic error for him to go back to the same old "they got us in" boys looking for someone who can "get us out."

With all the deference in the world to Mr. Dulles feelings, and with entire willingness to concede his ability and his store of knowledge, we feel that he is disqualified for the post by reason of his long association with policies and decisions now proven beyond question to have been tragic blunders.

We believe that he is in one of those unhappy positions where whatever he does is wrong—in a spot where his past has caught up with his present and robbed him of a future!

We believe that there is only one philosophy which will offer President Eisenhower and the American people any substantial hope for practical results in the field of peace, and that is the "new broom" philosophy.

We believe that the thing to do is to sweep out ruthlessly and promptly all persons now in key positions who were identified in any manner with the foreign policy of the New Deal Administrations from Pearl Harbor down to Korea, and replace them with men whose vision for the future will not be clouded with the grime and dust of the past.

gift of the School to a board of trustees recently, it was appraised at over $2,500,000. George A. Walton, member of the board of trustees of the Woods Schools, and principal emeritus of the George School, will join Mrs. Hare and Mr. Johnstone in their tributes to the employees.

Those to be honored, and their years of service, are:

From Langhorne, Miss Mae Hurdle, 35 years; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D. Dock, 29 and 28 years, respectively; Miss Anna J. McClelland, 25 years; Mrs. Conrad Laffler, 22 years; Mrs. Lucille B. Munn, 21 years; Mrs. Dorothy M. Odiorne, 20 years; Anderson J. Wessau, 20 years; Jacob V. Stockert, 20 years; Raymond J. Gross, 20 years; William Faulkner, 18 years; Mrs. Phoebe B. Kissinger, 17 years; Dr. William L. Noe, 17 years; Frank R. Bilger, 17 years.

From Abington, Rex Kiffe, 21 years; from Bristol, Gabriel Fiori, 17 years; from Oxford Valley, William Hieber, 17 years.

An interesting sidelight is the employee with the longest record of service, Miss Hurdle, received her early training in special education for exceptional children at the hands of Dr. Edward R. Johnstone, of the famous Training School at Vineland, New Jersey. On Monday night she will be the recipient of honors at the hands of the late Dr. Johnstone's son, Edward L. Johnstone, new president of The Woods Schools.

Scout Executive Stresses Need for Adult Leaders

Ross, recently appointed Boy Scout field executive for the Lower Bucks District, at his first formal meeting with the committee members and institutional representatives since his recent appointment. The meeting was held Monday night in the Bristol Borough Hall.

Ross stressed the need for additional adult leaders and made suggestions for recruiting such leadership.

Jesse G. Williams, Newportville, served as co-chairman of the meeting with the regular chairman, George Wetherill. Williams reported on plans for a Scout Camporee to be held at Rohm and Haas Athletic Field, starting Friday, May 15 and continuing through the following Saturday and Sunday.

an increase of $127,916.46 or 122.62 percent last month, compared with the 1949 figure," Norcross explained.

"And last month's traffic count of 45,836 vehicles showed an increase of 459,638 or 119.02 percent over the 386,198 vehicles which traveled over the spans the same month four years ago."

Norcross emphasized that the main factor in the revenue and traffic increases was the commission's reduction of tolls. When the commission acquired the spans, it promptly lowered tolls from 35 and 30 cents to 25 cents.

"This resulted in a phenomenal increase in traffic," Norcross added, "especially on the Burlington-Bristol bridge."

He said the Burlington span earned revenues of $52,451.58 last month, an increase of $36,722.36 or 233.47 percent over the same month in 1949.

March's traffic count of 207,511 vehicles, he said, was an increase of 149,749 or 257.58 percent over March, 1949.

The record breaking month, Norcross added, boosted the total revenues produced by the spans since they were acquired by the county in October, 1948, to $9,561,964.94. During this period, 35,248,524 vehicles have traveled over the bridges.

A breakdown of the March report, compared with the same month in 1952, follows:

Tacony-Palmira bridge: Revenues, $179,787.40, an increase of $29,556.20 or 19.67 percent; traffic, 638,325 vehicles, an increase of 94,708 or 17.42 percent.

Burlington-Bristol bridge: Revenues, $52,451.58, an increase of $15,901.82 or 43.51 percent; traffic, 207,511 vehicles, an increase of 70,055 or 50.97 percent.

few municipalities include a medical doctor on their boards of health, including the boroughs of Bristol, Tullytown, and New Hope, and the township of Bristol.

"Personally, I wish the rest of the county were as fortunate as Bristol in its medical situation," continued Dr. Darnell.

Speaking of public health statistics, which he calls "an essential in planning for medical service," Dr. Darnell stated that they have only become available at all within very recent months and do not yet reach the practicing physicians except by special request.

Dr. Darnell pointed to the county health departments which he said other states had found valuable. From their experiences has been based the present law permitting a county health department in Bucks county, he added. Dr. Darnell has been urging the formation of a Bucks County Health Department.

News of Schools in Area --

Pennsbury District

The faculty and student body of Pennsbury plan a benefit basketball game for Saturday, April 18, at seven p. m. in the high school gym. George Jarmoska, director of Athletics announced that there will be two games, the High School Boys Varsity vs the High School Girls Varsity. The second game will be between the Men Faculty of Pennsbury and the PTA Fathers. This game will start at 8:15 p. m. The purpose of the event is to help support the Band Uniform Fund. The Pennsbury PTA and Pennsbury Athletic Council are sponsors.

Pennsbury High School is having projects in modeling, casting, and sculpture done in the art classes. The work represents observed or imagined objects done in solid materials and in three dimensions. In the modeling projects, a figure in clay is made that is the model of the shape, design, and plan. In the casting, the objects are allowed to harden in a mold and then removed. In the sculpture projects, a figure is cut from blocks and filled with feuder putty. The projects are on display in the art room at the High School.

"Go, Annie, Go!" This is a typical yell heard on any athletic field at any time of the year. The object of this yell stands about five-foot-two, and is considered the dandiest girl athlete in Pennsbury today. Her name is Anne Hunter and her ambition is pro football. In addition to her sports career which consisted of varsity hockey (captain this year), basketball, and softball, Annie was elected girls' "Sports-Nite" captain, and although her team, Orange, didn't win, she was behind them all the way. She is a member of Athletic Council and was voted "best girl athlete" by her class.

Bucks County Indian Legends To Be Presented to Club

Marie Maxwell, known as "the story lady," will be heard in a program of Bucks county legends at the meeting of the Travel Club tomorrow afternoon.

In preparing her program, Miss Maxwell has selected legends of pre-Revolutionary times and some Indian legends of this area. Stories include the Indian Maid of the Neshaminy Creek, An Incident on the Old York Road, Sampson's Hill's Haunt and George Homan and the first tansheims. She states: "It is interesting to learn that the first so-called Penna. Dutch designs were brought here by an indentured farm laborer, who paid off his debts by drawing and coloring birth certificates. These rare tansheims have been collected by antique dealers and copied for every sort of decoration from chests of drawers to baby mugs. And all had their origin in the painful printing of a man who was trying to buy his freedom."

Miss Maxwell will be introduced to Club members by Mrs. Elwood P. Goslin, following a brief business meeting to be conducted by the president, Mrs. Frank S. Weik. The meeting will convene at two o'clock in the club home. The hostesses will be Mrs. Charles T. Simpson and Mrs. Ronald Swain.

Today's Quiet Moment

Selected by
The Rev. E. Clarendon Hyde
Vicar, Grace Episcopal Church,
Hulmeville

Beloved, I beseech you as aliens and exiles to abstain from the passions of the flesh that wage war against your soul. Maintain good conduct among the Gentiles, so that in case they speak against you as wrongdoers, they may see your good deeds and glorify God on the day of visitation.

Be subject for the Lord's sake to every human institution, whether it be to the emperor as supreme, or to governors as sent by him to punish those who do wrong and to praise those who do right. For it is God's will that by doing right you should put to silence the ignorance of foolish men. Live as free men, yet without using your freedom as a pretext for evil; but live as servants of God. Honor all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the emperor.

I, Peter II, 11-17

(Revised Standard Version)
At a time when Christians tho't of themselves as aliens in this world, exiled from heaven, and were therefore considered dangerous subversives by the pagan Roman Empire, St. Peter told his hearers to prove that God's kingdom is not of this world by obeying the heathen rulers. But there were limits beyond which even St. Peter could not go, and he was finally crucified when obedience to the law would have meant disloyalty to God. More recently, Christians in Germany have decided that their obedience to Hitler went too far in obeying this Scripture passage, while of course Christians in any democratic land do not admit that any man is supreme, even the civil government.

O Lord our Governor, whose glory is in all the world; We commend this nation to thy merciful care, that being guided by thy Providence, we may dwell secure in thy peace. Grant to The President of the United States, and to all in authority, wisdom and strength to know and to do thy will. Fill them with the love of truth and righteousness; and make them ever mindful of their calling to serve this people in thy fear; thru Jesus Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with thee and the Holy Ghost, one God, world without end. Amen.

Bucks Cancer Crusade

the actual crusade for funds in the county during the next two weeks, during which time it is hoped the $14,200 quota will be over-subscribed.

Early reports received yesterday, from just a few districts reporting showed a total of funds on hand amounting to $2,217.75, including $70 from the Newtown area; $215 from the Quakertown area, $67 from Riegelsville, and $1,865.75 on hand from previous reports. Districts just starting the 1953 crusade include: Morrisville-Bristol, Doylestown, Perkasie-Sellersville, Dublin, Yardley, Langhorne, Warrington-Chalfont, Rushland-Richboro-Ivyland, New Hope-Buckingham, Southampton, Hulmeville, Plumsteadville, Point Pleasant, Fairless Hills and Levittown.

Announcement was definitely made at yesterday's luncheon by Director Work that the Bucks County crusade was not a member of the Bucks County Community Chest in 1952. This announcement was made so that crusade volunteers making solicitations will be able to explain that cancer crusade contributions are to be made directly to the crusade leaders.

During the report luncheon, 9-year-old Abbie Virginia Elwell, of Newtown, presented a check to Director Work and Dr. Landenslager for $70 that was raised by the young folks of Newtown last Saturday at a rummage sale. Little Abbie Elwell was assisted in the rummage sale plans by Lee Allen Schondelmeyer, of Newtown, 8 years old.

Director Work emphasized the fact that even though the workers are actually engaged in a campaign to raise the $14,200 quota for 1953, the annual drive is known as a crusade rather than a campaign. This is because much information is given out by the workers and leaders at all homes and plants visited even though there may be no contributions forthcoming this year.

"The crusade idea is one reason we did not enter the Community Chest project this year", Director Work explained.

The guest speaker, Dr. Schatz exhibited a test tube containing urethane, a white powder made of alcohol and ammonia, a product that will cause cancer in certain animals. The speaker said however that neither alcohol or ammonia causes cancer so that the researchers are now busily engaged in finding the cause why the combined product known as urethane causes the dreaded disease. Urethane can be used however, for the treatment of leukemia, a certain type of cancer, Dr. Schatz explained.

Announcement was also made by Director Work that the 1953 cancer crusade in Bucks county will receive the proceeds of a benefit concert to be given in the auditorium of the Doylestown elementary school, Court and Broad sts., on Thursday night, April 30, at 8:15 by the combined glee clubs of the National Agricultural College and the School of Horticulture for Women, at Ambler. The tickets are being sold throughout Bucks county for fifty cents apiece.

"Because of the fact that every cent contributed for the Bucks county cancer crusade will be expended in the county, we are hoping that the rental fee for the high school auditorium for the April 30 concert will be a contribution", Director Work commented before adjourning the report luncheon. The services of both colleges giving the concert are being entirely donated, he explained, with participants even paying their own transportation to Doylestown.

LOWER MORELAND, Apr. 16 — Charlie Fisher pitched and batter Delhaas Junior High to its first win of the season yesterday as it beat Lower Moreland Junior High, 4-2, on the home field.

Fisher had 11 strikeouts to his credit and walked five batters. He blanked the home team until the final inning when two runs were scored over the plate.

With the bat, Fisher had a triple and single. He was responsible for a pair of tallies in the third when he tripled with Pete Stuebning on first and then scored on Ron Barkasy's hit.

Delhaas also scored a run in the first when Charlie Williams singled and stole second and third. He crossed while Barkasy was being thrown out. The fourth run in the sixth was the result of a pass to Bill Tyler, a stolen base, and a hit by Kish.

out by all Bucks county communities.

The red alert consisting of a three-minute "warbling" of sirens, a three-minute series of short blasts on horns and whistles, or a combination of the two, shall be sounded beginning precisely at 2:35 p. m. and ending exactly at 2:38 p. m.

The theoretical "period of attack" will begin at 2:38 and end at 2:41 p. m. Directors have been urged to stage simulated attacks and appropriate civil defense exercises.

The white alert or all-clear signal will be sounded beginning precisely at 2:41 p. m.

Many Pennsylvania broadcasting stations have planned to participate in the Federal Government's CON ELRAD plan for emergency operations.

Every effort will be made to expedite all necessary movement of police cars, fire engines, ambulances and other emergency vehicles during the period of alert. There will be no general stoppage of public utilities, including construction and repair work. Industry will not be halted and there will be no attempt to halt rail and military affairs.

The owners and operators of stores, banks, hotels and other indoor places of business will be expected to carry out, at least in modified form, the attack plans developed for their own particular establishments.

Gasoline station owners and operators and other individuals conducting non-manufacturing operations not under roof, will be expected to suspend business during the alert and request that employees and customers to "take cover" inside buildings.

Street traffic will be brought to a halt as soon as is consistent with public safety. Schools and colleges will be expected to carry out procedures arranged ahead of time.

Fairless Hills Section Seeks Players for Team

An effort is being made to form a baseball team to represent Fairless Hills in the Falls Township Recreation League. Lawrence Callaghan, playground supervisor in the Fairless Hills section, has called a meeting for Monday, April 20, at 8 p. m. The meeting place has been designated as Cottage School No. 14, Trenton-Hulmeville road.

The Falls Township Recreation Council hopes for a possible six-team league in hardball as part of the summer recreational program. Teams from Levittown, Fallsington, and Fairless Hills would form the nucleus of such a league. Teams from Morrisville, Yardley, and Lower Makefield are being eyed as potential members of a fine amateur baseball league.

All men and boys over 16 of the Fairless Hills area who would like to take part in such an inter-community program are invited to attend the April 20 meeting.

the week and lead her community's section of the parade.

In the contest for the "local" queen a popularity poll will first be conducted. The six leading contestants chosen by the popularity poll will appear in a beauty and talent contest and the winner will be crowned queen of her home community and will appear in the finals for queen of lower Bucks county. In addition to the prizes that she will receive as "local" queen, the chosen girl will appear on the Ed Sullivan show the following Sunday as part of a week-end at the Waldorf-Astoria, New York, N. Y. The Jr. C. of C. will see that a jam-packed week-end of entertainment and fun befitting a queen will be hers and her chaperon's.

Many merchants are also contributing awards to the queen. The contest for the queen to reign over Greater Lower Bucks Co. Week is open to any girl who is a resident of the lower end of the county and is in the 10th, 11th or 12th grades. Further details will appear in the near future.

The parade will be composed of units and floats from all principal areas of the lower end. Industries and labor will also participate. There will be a minimum of ten musical units. The feature attraction among them will be St. Vincent's Cadets, Bayonne, N. J., national Jr. Drum and Bugle Corps champions of the American Legion.

The route of march, assembling of units and arranging for adequate safety and first aid will be handled by Robert Downing, parade marshal, assisted by Horace Eisenbrey. Both are experienced in staging parades and have done a considerable amount of parade work, particularly for the American Legion.

As Bristol is the host city this year for the parade, Burgess I. J. Hetherington, will act as grand marshal.

The Jr. C. of C. will award a variety of trophies to participants. These will be original ceramics designed especially for the parade. Arthur Wolf, Bristol, and John J. Fitzgerald, Yardley, both of the C. of C., are handling arrangements for the parade and may be contacted for information.

Truck Runs Off Highway; Catches Fire from Flare

TULLYTOWN, April 16 — Tullytown Fire Co. at 8:30 last night extinguished a fire in a half-ton pickup truck which got stuck in mud beside Tullytown-Fallsington road, one mile south of Fallsington and was ignited by an oil flare set up to warn of the hazard.

The accident occurred south of the former Dominic McKay farm, on a site where new Levittown homes are under construction. The truck driver, William Gessner, of Court D, Bristol Terrace II, told Assistant Fire Chief Earl E. Johnson that his vehicle became stuck in the mud when he ran off the road. John Brady, of Oxford Valley Trailer Park, attempted to push the truck out of the mud with a tractor, but it moved toward the flare and caught fire.

The flames damaged tires on the truck, and burned the paint, and the interior of the cab. The firemen used foamite to extinguish the blaze. The truck is owned by Howard Farquar, of Emille, a subcontractor who makes roads and sidewalks in the Levittown project.

Noted Artists to Exhibit On "Open House" Day

Paintings To Be Hung In Youth Center at Newtown On 16th of May

NEWTOWN, Apr. 16—At "open house" day in historic Newtown, on May 16, from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m., several noted artists of Newtown area will exhibit paintings in the Shamony Valley Youth Center.

The committee feels that those who visit historic houses open that day would be interested in seeing some of the works of contemporary local artists, and therefore, has planned this exhibit in conjunction with the tour.

The artists exhibiting will include:

John Foster, who will display a group of oil and easel paintings. Mr. Foster is an instructor at Phila. Museum's School of Art. His work has been exhibited in the annual oil and water color shows at Phila. Academy of Fine Arts. This year he was honored by a one-man show at Phila. Art Alliance. Mr. Foster has been recipient of several awards in the field of fine art, including the Dana Water Color Medal of Phila. Water Color Club. Solo exhibits scheduled this year will include displays at the Playhouse Gallery, New Hope, and Bucks Co. Assembly Building at Doylestown. Murals by Mr. Foster appear in the cafeteria of N. J. State Highway Department Building, West Trenton.

Katharine Steele Renninger will display landscapes with emphasis on Bucks county scenes and landmarks. Most of her works are in casein. Mrs. Renninger won the European traveling fellowship upon graduation from Moore Institute of Phila., and is now an instructor at Moore Institute. Her paintings were exhibited in the Penna. Academy of Fine Arts last winter and at present she is having a one-man show at Phila. Art Alliance. Mrs. Renninger's work has also been on display at the Philadelphia Water Color Club show, at the Phillips Mill show, New Hope, and at Woodmere Gallery, Chestnut Hill. She occasionally exhibits in New York at the National Academy.

Mary Fuges will display a group of landscapes, portraits and pen and ink sketches. Mrs. Fuges is at present teaching art at Moore Institute.

Margery Aspen Baumann will exhibit a group of pen and ink sketches of historic buildings in Newtown area, and several water colors. Mrs. Baumann is a graduate of Phila. School of Industrial Art. Her particular field is illustration of children's books. Her work has been exhibited at the Philadelphia Print Club and Langhorne Community Center.

Ruth Seegers will show several landscapes and street scenes. Mrs.

Seegers has painted most of the old homes in this area. Mrs. Seegers has exhibited at Phillips Mill.

Know Your Neighbor . . .

A series of Articles Introducing the New Residents of Levittown to The Community.

(By Staff Reporter)

On Friday, the 13th of March, George A. Rickert and his wife, Kathleen, not only made settlement on their house here, and were among 13 couples doing so, but they took mortgage number 131179. Their house is not at number 13, though; they live at 96 Bald Cypress lane. However, the Rickerts have found 13 windows in the house.

Despite this multiple jinx, the Rickerts have met with no ill luck in their home, but are quite happy to be here.

The couple has three children, Adele Marie, six; Christiann, 4½; and Buddy (George, Jr.), seven months old. They lived in West Oak Lane, Phila., before becoming Levittowners. West Oak Lane has always been Mr. Rickert's home, while his wife is from Lansdowne. He is a graduate of Northeast

High School and Gibson School of Accountancy, Phila., is now an auditor for the U. S. Army Audit Agency, Phila. In World War II, Mr. Rickert served in the Army, in the European theater.

When a permanent wall was recently installed between the living room and all-purpose room, Mr. Rickert saved the old sliding wall, and with the material is building a kitchen table and four chairs. Oil painting is another hobby of Mr. Rickert, with pictures of boats his specialty.

Mrs. Rickert likes to paint furniture, and recently changed the fireplace from red to white. Sewing, embroidery and other needlework are another pastime she enjoys.

Since moving here, Mr. Rickert has been setting up a bookkeeping service for small businesses in the area, to which he devotes his spare time.

Hulmeville, and E. W. Godfrey, divisional manager of the American LaFrance Truck Co.

The Fire Co. held its 25th anniversary banquet Saturday evening in American Legion hall, Bristol, with 125 attending. The banquet, the first in the company's history, was to honor those members who formed the original fire company April 13, 1928.

Invocation by the Rev. Mr. Woodman, was followed by an introduction of charter members by President Charles Everett. Those present were: William Clifton and George Oldham. Those absent were W. Dickson, F. Dowgwilo, H. Hoering, Charles Goodbred and J. Martin. Reports to those deceased were paid by the Rev. Mr. Woodman.

Presentation of a chime clock was made to Mrs. Mary Wilson, in appreciation of her services for many years in setting off the fire siren, prior to installation of the automatic system.

Guest speakers were C. Burnley White, Andalusia, and Robert Graham, Master of ceremonies was Walter Bowker.

Entertainers included a magician and sand artist.

Entertainers were: Leonard Mico, magician; J. DeMarco, sand and "The Hollies", with their masks. Pianist was Helen Tremayne.

EDGELEY

Children baptised by the Rev. Robert J. Thomson on Sunday in Pilgrim Presbyterian Church were: Cynthia Blair and Mima Louise, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Howell; Robert Earl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dahms; Ronald Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Castro; Robert Kent, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Robert J. Thomson.

FALLSINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Buckalew on Sunday visited their daughter, Miss Alfreda Buckalew, at West Chester State Teachers College.

Seven members attended a meeting of Mary Williamson Guild in All-Saints Episcopal parish house, Wednesday evening, with Mrs. Charles Satterthwaite presiding. After business meeting the members made aprons.

George School

The musical highlight of the year, a high honor for a faculty member, a report of progress in the current campaign and launching of the spring sports season were in the news at George School this week.

Robert W. Steele, music director, and a cast of nearly 70 presented 2 performances this weekend of Gilbert & Sullivan's "Mikado," with area people invited to attend on Friday night, April 17, without charge. Joyce Cushman of Newtown is one of two student directors for the popular operetta. Major roles are being taken by Anne Brewer, Newtown; Richard and Werner Muller, Bryn Gweled; and Frederick Geiger, Doylestown. Martha Yerkes of Newtown is an understudy. Natalie Scull of Langhorne is a piano accompanist.

Ernestine Robinson, head of the English department and adviser to the George School News will be honored as "student journalism advance of the year" by Temple University's school of journalism on April 22. Representatives of 70 high and independent schools in New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware and Pennsylvania who nominated her will be present at a special luncheon that day when Vice President William W. Tomlinson presents an illuminated scroll. Miss Robinson is completing her tenth year at George School after broad experience elsewhere. She has also won honors from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

With about one-third of the prospects seen, George School's development program has attracted gifts of over $102,000, co-chairman George A. Walton reported from campus yesterday. Small regional efforts are underway in Pittsburgh and Harrisburg, Chicago, Ill., and Detroit, Mich., following a recent 2,700-mile tour by Principal Richard McFeely and Paul Blanchard, Jr., public relations director. Main goals in the $530,000 drive are immediate faculty salary increases and erection of a new auditorium.

A 49-event spring athletic schedule got underway, between rainstorms, at the Friends boarding school last week, too. Coaches are: track, Stanley Sutton; baseball, Robert Geissinger; boys tennis, Ernest Seegers; girls tennis, Athalia "Bobby" Jamison; and girls lacrosse, Eleanor Hess. The schedule shows all three boys teams playing at George School this Saturday, starting at 2:00 p. m.

Commission Explains Subdivision Regulations

DOYLESTOWN, Apr. 16.—At a meeting of some 25 local officials on April 9th in its offices, the Bucks County Planning Commission emphasized that its subdivision regulations were only minimum standards. Local officials from Doylestown Borough and Township, New Britain Borough and Township, Chalfont Borough and Warrington Township were told that if municipalities wished to have higher standards, they must require them in their own building codes and zoning ordinances.

Franklin C. Wood, executive director of the commission, emphasized to the group, which included the county commissioners, Joseph W. Hollowell, Thomas R. Lewis and John T. Welsh and Robert W. Robinson, board member of the Bucks County Planning Commission, that the commission was without power to require building and zoning standards. However, the commission would like to see the municipalities solve the most critical of their development problems by using their own powers of zoning and building control.

Following Mr. Wood's remarks, the meeting broke up into a number of small discussion groups. Members of the staff answered questions and explained various studies and maps of particular interest to local officials.

Those present were: Doylestown Borough: C. Leroy Frack, G. Thawley Hayman and Charles W. Miller, Borough Council; Peter Gott and Daniel W. Tomlinson, Planning Commission; Doylestown Township: David L. Springs, Zoning Officer; Harriet M. Mims and Helaine Littleman, Zoning Board of Adjustment; Wilbur H. Vandine, Solicitor; New Britain Borough: Elwood Hoffman, Borough Council; New Britain Township: Ira A. Kerns and Walter C. Fellman, Road Supervisors; Edward J. Boyle, Zoning Commission; Arthur Eastburn, Jr., Solicitor; Chalfont Borough: Peter Hellberg and J. Clyde Derstine, Borough Council; Elmer Cates, Zoning Board of Adjustment; Eugene C. Boehret, Zoning Officer; J. Franklin Hartzel, Solicitor; Donald Weisel, Engineer; Warrington Township: Lee B. Lansberry, Solicitor; L. H. Point, Zoning Officer.

This meeting was one of a series of the Bucks County Planning Commission has been holding. The next, on April 30th, will be for the officials of Buckingham, Plumstead, and Solebury townships and New Hope Borough.

GARDEN NOTES

By Walter W. Fitzmaurice, Jr.

Perennials are the most outstanding type of plant for the garden. By the name perennial, it is seen that these plants will grow year after year. These should not be confused with such plants as Johnny-jump-ups which seed themselves but do not carry along a root system from year to year.

Perennials are broken down into three general groups. These three are herbaceous, woody, and evergreen. Herbaceous refers to the fact that the plant foliage dies each fall but returns in the spring through a hardy root stock. Woody refers to perennials which lose their leaves but do not die back to the ground. This group includes all deciduous trees and shrubs while herbaceous perennials take in such plants as primroses, phlox, and many others.

Evergreen perennials include such plants as Tsuga or hemlock, Rhododendron, Iberis or perennial candytuft, and others. This group is usually considered secondarily in conjunction with herbaceous perennials. In the following discussion I will be referring to herbaceous perennials primarily and one partially to evergreen perennials.

perennial plants over annual plants. These are for one, a dependable plant in consecutive years without replanting. Perennials will usually enlarge their clumps over a period of years. One fair sized plant this spring will be a giant sized clump in a matter of two to three years depending upon the variety.

Shade need not be a limiting factor in the development of perennials in the garden such as encountered by annuals, for instance, snapdragons and petunias. There are some varieties of perennials which prefer partial shade to that of full sun thus making them desirable on partially shaded areas around your house or property. Various home owners in Levittown have inquired if annuals are suitable for placement in partial shade near their carport. Annuals, in this case, are impractical while selected herbaceous perennials would be excellent for this area because of this reason of shade.

Another advantage is that a perennial plan may be made in which selected perennials will bloom at certain periods thus giving a desirable color scheme. After the blooming period is past another mass is ready to bloom giving perhaps an entirely different pattern of colors. Annuals when they begin blooming, usually continue to bloom until Jack Frost puts forth his icy fingers. This continued bloom giving one pattern may by the end of the summer become fatiguing.

Disadvantages are mentionable also. Perennials are more expensive than annuals. Annuals come in a much wider range of color than perennials do in any one type of plant.

Planning of a perennial garden is very important before any plants are purchased. Perennials are usually considered and placed in an entirely different bed than annuals. A lasting bed of perennials is very effective without the need of additional annuals.

Consideration must also be given to the direction in reference to proximity to dwelling, condition of soil referring to moisture contents, or moisture retaining ability and natural protection from the severe elements of weather. All these are important before consideration of the actual plants is begun.

Since this topic of perennials is so gigantic and I only have limited space to write, I will continue next week discussing actual selection of the varieties, method of planting, and maintenance.

See you soon!

BARBECUE GIFT

By International News Service
If the man on your guest list is an ardent barbecue chef, consider the present of a big block of wood a butcher's chopping block. One comes 18 inches square and 20 inches high, reproduced exactly like the work table of a professional meat carver. But be prepared for a slight shock—even blocks of wood come high in price these days.
